Energi Perdamaian & Harapan

1 Sejak pandemi bulan Maret, untuk pertama kalinya saya kembali “terbang”.

Dengan melewati sejumlah protokol kesehatan, awal September saya dan tim selama 10 Hari melatih sekitar 135 guru di Sumenep, Madura dan Kabupaten Malang, Jawa Timur. Rasa was-was akan risiko pandemi dikalahkan oleh rasa keterpanggilan untuk berbagi ilmu tentang strategi pembelajaran kreatif dan disiplin positif kepada para pendidik di sana yang sudah mulai “mati gaya” dalam menjalani Pembelajaran Jarak Jauh (PJJ).

Dengan media pembelajaran yang beragam, dari flash card, hingga board game, kami melatih para guru tentang pentingnya kesejahteraan mental, dan menciptakan suasana bahagia dalam belajar. Melalui board game Sekolahku, para guru tenggelam bermain dan belajar tentang bagaimana membangun sistem sekolah yang damai dan ramah untuk anak-anak kita.

Pelatihan guru ini adalah salah satu rangkaian dari program Ayo Main!, program yang didukung oleh UNDP yang bertujuan membangun kapasitas sekolah dan pendidik dalam menciptakan sekolah yang damai dan mencegah kekerasan.

Selain program Ayo Main!, di bulan September PeaceGen ikut merayakan Hari Perdamaian Internasional bersama orang-orang sedunia, dengan mengadakan Bandung Peace Week selama seminggu penuh. Serangkaian webinar diisi oleh 18 pembicara dari 6 negara dan diikuti oleh total 2.642 pemirsa dari 13 kota di Indonesia. Acara ini adalah kerja sama PeaceGen dan IoFC serta melibatkan 26 organisasi termasuk chapter dan klub Agent of Peace di berbagai daerah.

Satu hal yang menarik dari perayaan ini, adalah kehadiran Kasyif seorang siswa SD yang tinggal di Garut, yang semangat dan sangat aktif mengikuti rangkaian acara ini. Dengan kemampuan bahasa Inggrisnya yang di atas rata-rata bagi anak seusianya, Kasyif ikut menyimak dan berdiskusi tema-tema perdamaian.

Semangat para guru di Sumenep, Malang, meriahnya Bandung Peace Week serta antusiasme Kasyif membuat bulan September kemarin menjadi penuh energi yang memancarkan harapan dan perdamaian.

A Month that Radiated Hope and Peace

E For the first time since the pandemic broke out in March, I feel like I am “flying” again.

By following a number of health protocols, in early September my team and I trained around 135 teachers in Sumenep, Madura and Malang Regency, East Java. The anxiety surrounding the pandemic is overcome by the call to share knowledge about creative learning strategies and positive discipline with educators there, with educators there. These educational values have started to “go out of style” as schools undergo Distance Learning.

With a variety of learning media, from flash cards to board games, we trained teachers on the importance of mental well-being, and creating a happy learning atmosphere. Through the ‘Sekolahku’ board game, teachers are immersed in playing and learning about how to build a peaceful and friendly school system for our children.

This teacher training is part of the Ayo Main! Program, a program supported by UNDP that aims to build the capacity of schools and educators in creating peaceful schools and preventing violence.

In addition to the Ayo Main! Program in September, PeaceGen also celebrated International Peace Day with people around the world, by holding Bandung Peace Week for a whole week. We held a series of webinars which included 18 speakers from 6 countries. These webinars were attended by a total of 2,642 viewers from 13 cities in Indonesia. This event was a collaboration between PeaceGen and IoFC and involved 26 organizations including chapters and Agent of Peace clubs in various regions.

One noteworthy aspect of this celebration was the presence of Kasyif, an elementary school student living in Garut. He was extremely enthusiastic and actively participated in this series of events. With his above average English language proficiency for children of his age, Kasyif also listened and discussed themes of peace.

“The enthusiasm of the teachers in Sumenep, Malang, the success of Bandung Peace Week and the enthusiasm of Kasyif made September full of positive energy that radiated hope and peace.”

Cerita Perubahan Agent of Peace

AoP's Story

- 1 Semenjak mengetahui adanya prioritas identitas yang berbeda-beda pada tiap orang, akhirnya saya sadar bahwa mencela orang lain itu salah besar karena identitas orang lain yang berbeda itu penting untuk diakui dan diapresiasi.

- E “Once I realized that people prioritize different parts of their identity, I finally understood that it is a big mistake to criticize other people because other people's different identities are important and should be acknowledged and appreciated.”
